Real Pilgrims On Pilgrimage

If you notice a couple of Pilgrims in their high white collars and long black garb in front of the Alamo Saturday, don't be surprised.

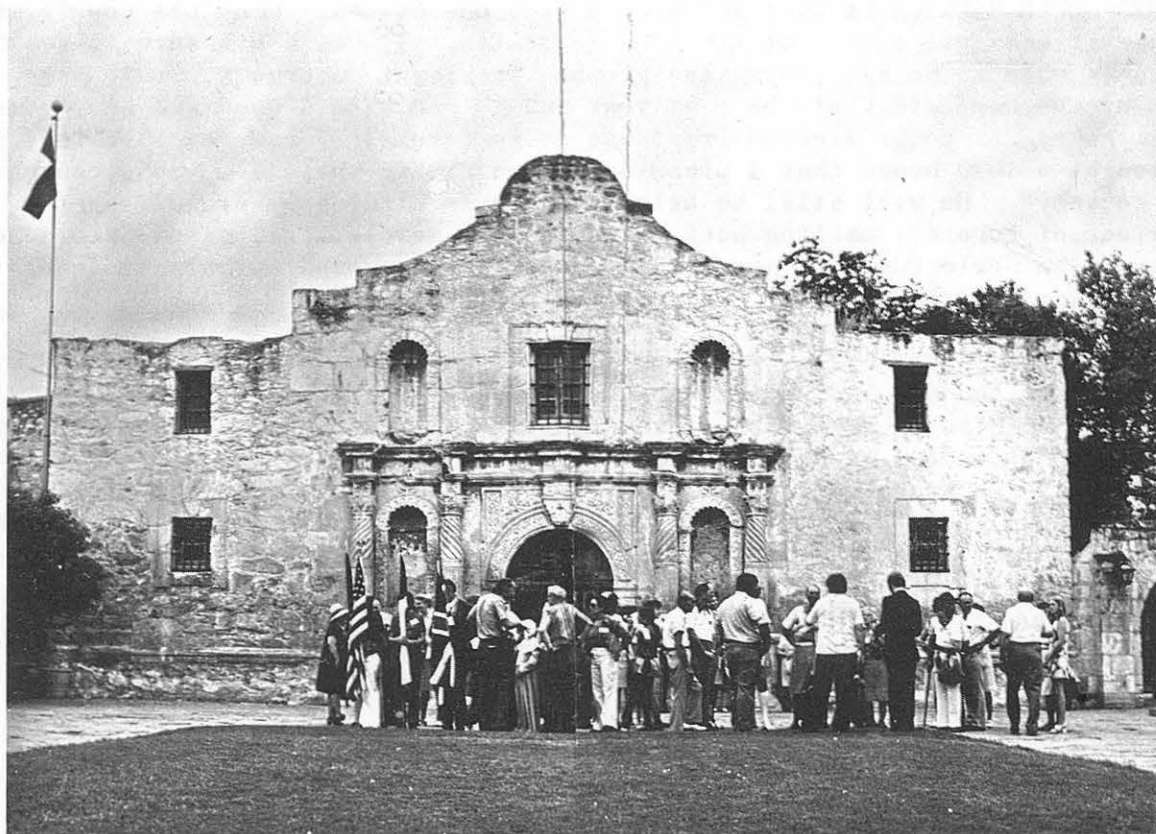

The descendants of George Soule will hold their annual national meet in San Antonio this weekend, and will place a wreath at the Shrine of Texas Liberty as part of their activities.

George Soule came over on the Mayflower as Edward Winslow's hired man back in 1620. To emphasize the heritage of this 353-year-old family, those placing the wreath will wear 16th Century costumes for a man and a woman loaned by the curator of the Plymouth Pilgrim Hall.

Mrs. Edwin S. Harris is making the local arrangements, and will entertain the 75-100 descendants with a barbecue at her home Saturday night. The president of the Soule family is George Standish Soule of Philadelphia.

Mrs. Harris points out that her ancestor was a friend of Capt. Miles Standish and John Alden, and that all three of them lived in Duxbury, Mass., after first settling in Plymouth.

Family members will make the Palacio del Rio their headquarters, and will have breakfast in the Tower of the Americas Sunday, attend church at St. Mark's Episcopal and take a barge ride.

The Soule Kindred gathers at The Alamo.

EDITOR'S CORNER:

The 1973 SOULE REUNION is over and what a nice one it was! Many new people makes many new friends and ones that won't be forgotten. It was a pleasure to see Col. John Soule able to be back among the group. President, George S. Soule gave a review of the happenings of the past year and it had been a good and busy year. He then asked not to be elected President as he (quote)"Please remember that I just bought a 1690 house that I plan to restore MYSELF while I'm young enough to still do same". He will still be helping we Soule Kindred by organizing the "1974 Tour of Europe"; mailing back issues of the Newsletters, cards, etc. He displayed one Soule "Coat of Arms" that had been reproduced for a wall decoration. All these may be ordered from our Secretary or Treasurer.

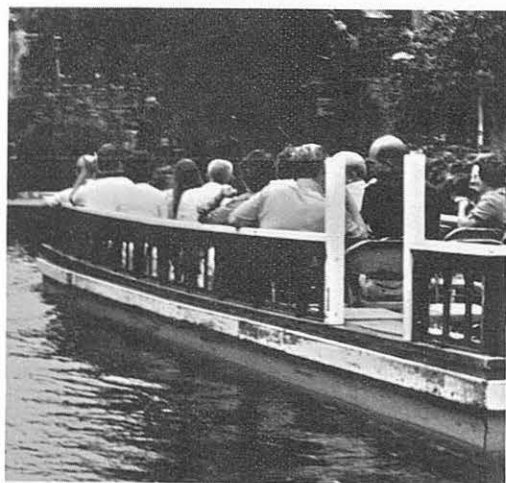

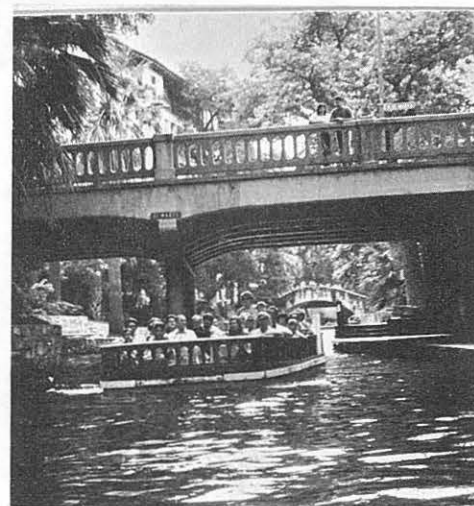

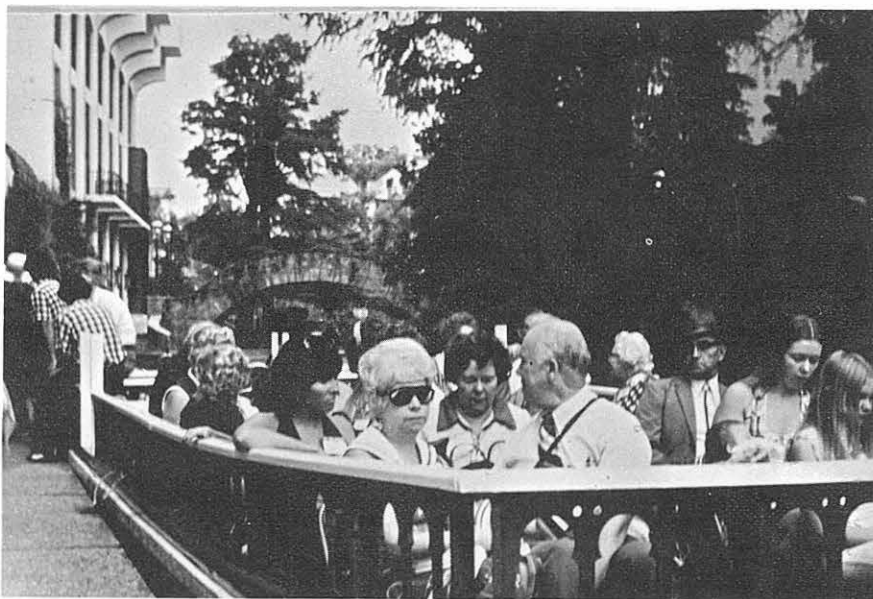

The traveling Crismore's are "Back Home Again In Indiana" after about 7,000 miles of travel from Indiana to San Antonio, to Colorado, to Teton Mountains, to Yellowstone Park, to Glacier Nat. Park, into Waterton Lake in Canada and a week with relatives in Montana. We saw beautiful grain fields, good crops and fine cattle in every State we traveled through. The United States is a grand country to live in and it is so good to us. Indiana is rather special to us and we wish to share some of our highlight places of interest with our Soule Cousins for the Reunion next year, 1974, here in Indianapolis. Start planning now!!

Sincerely yours, your Editor, Mrs. Frank A. Crismore

1973 SOULE KINDRED REUNION * SAN ANTONIO. TEXAS

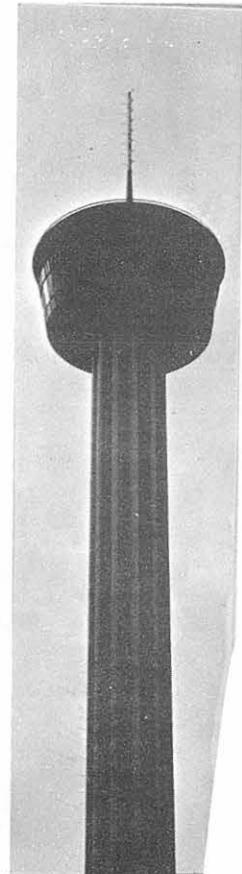

We embarked at the Palacio del Rio hotel landing for a barge tour of the San Antonio River Walk.

1973 SOULE KINDRED REUNION - - SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS

- - and debarked at the Theater of the Arts landing in the Convention Center complex.

We then walked over to the Tower of the Americas.

1973 SOULE KINDRED REUNION -- SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS

In the Tower's revolving restaurant, 620 feet above the ground, we enjoyed an excellent "brunch" and had a superb view of the city and surrounding areas.

1973 SOULE KINDRED REUNION - - SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS

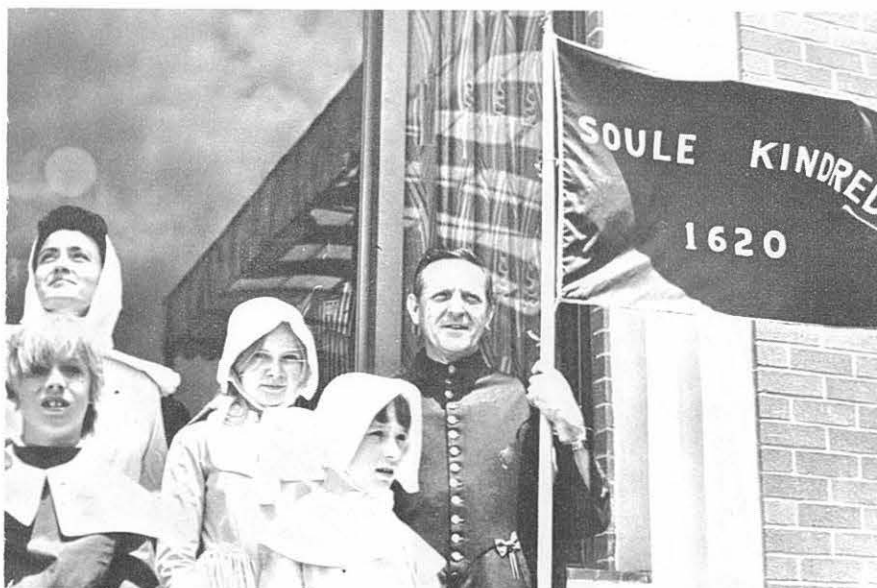

At noon on Saturday, we met in front of the Palacio del Rio and formed for our parade to the Alamo. Local members of the Texas descendants of the Mayflower joined with us. The pageantry of flags and Pilgrims in costume was impressive.

1973 SOULE KINDRED REUNION -- SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS

Cindy Soule, daughter of Herbert and Mary Soule of San Antonio, assisted by Linda Gaye King, daughter of Sandra Harris King of San Antonio, holds the Soule Kindred flag she made for the 1973 reunion.

Adult Pilgrims:

Mrs. Bill G. Frame
(Janet Soules) Houston, Tx.
Richard C. Soule,
Corpus Christi, Texas.

Children Pilgrims:

John Francois Stewart,
son of James and Madeleine
Stewart, San Antonio.
Tracy Tiffin, grand-daughter of the Kenneth O. Tiffins,
Holliston, Mass.
Dottie Morton, niece of
Howard and Dorothy Soule,
Las Cruces, N.M.

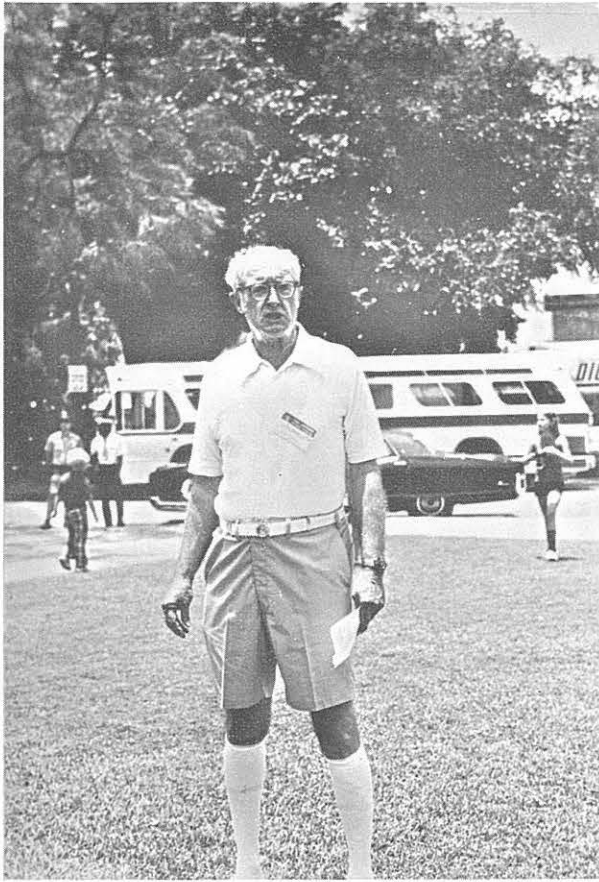

We placed a commemorative wreath before the Alamo. This famous Texas site is often called "The cradle of Texas Liberty".

Mrs. Lila Cockrell, Mayor Pro Tempore, officially welcomed the Kindred to San Antonio in a speech at the Alamo.

Colonel John Soule read the Mayflower Compact to our group.

Colonel John Soule

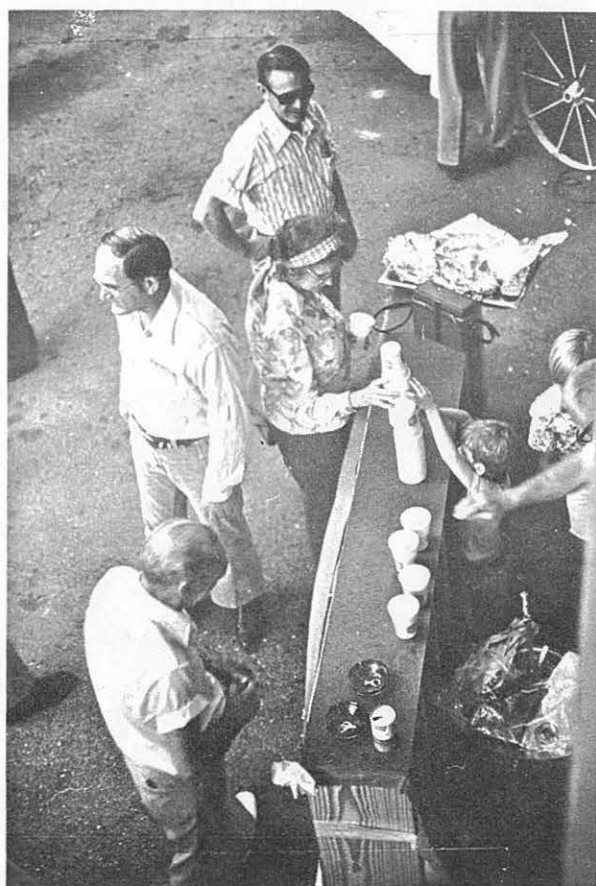

In the name of the Soule Kindred, Richard Soule presented Mrs. Cockrell with a copy of the Mayflower Compact.

Robert Soule, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Soule, Eden, New York

Edwin S. (Chip) Harris, son of Lt. Col. and Mrs. E. S. (Betty) Harris of San Antonio was in charge of the cooking for the barbecue; ably assisted by Jim Stewart of San Antonio. Jim provided and cooked the deer meat.

These are some the pictures taken at the barbecue held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. "Ned" Harris, 2158 West King's Highway, San Antonio, Texas, 78201, June 31, 1973.

(Editor's note: The whole reunion has been beautifully described by pictures taken during the SOULE reunion in Texas, 1973. We, the Soules, send a breat big THANKS to the Harris family and relatives that made the time spent there a long to be remembered occasion. The pictures show what we did throughout the three days and how much we enjoyed our Soule family get-together. Now we look forward to another year and another reunion this next one to be in Indiana. WATCH for announcements.)

THE SOULE KINDRED'S FIFTH ANNUAL REUNION

The Soule Kindred stopped all traffic in downtown San Antonio on Saturday noon, June 30th, when they proceeded from the Hilton Palacio del Rio to the Alamo during their fifth annual reunion. Motorized police led the group. The breeze streamed the Stars and Stripes; the Lone Star flag of Texas which was borne by Miss Jean Sarratt; the Mayflower flag of the San Antonio Colony of the General Society of Mayflower Descendants carried by Miss Charlotte Sarratt, Captain of the Colony; and a special banner made by Cindy Soule of San Antonio---"Soule Kindred - 1620" in white lettering on blue.

Just behind the flags came a group of "Pilgrims" in costume--two adults and three children. They were Janet (Soules) Frame, of Houston, Texas but surely looking like early Plymouth, Massachusetts; Richard C. Soule of Corpus Christi; Tracy Tiffin from Massachusetts; Dottie Morton of New Mexico and Jean Francois Stewart of San Antonio. They attracted perhaps the most attention of all from the many onlookers.

Councilwoman Lila Cockrell welcomed us for the City of San Antonio; George Standish Soule, our president of Soule Kindred in America, presented her with a parchment Mayflower Compact; Colonel John Soule, our historian, read the Compact, and Robert Soule placed a commemorative wreath honoring the defenders of the Alamo.

The ceremony followed a morning barge ride on the San Antonio River and a hearty brunch for the group on the top of the Tower of the Americas while it revolved and showed us a magnificent view of the city and the surrounding country out to Kelly Field, Lackland Air Base and the hill country beyond.

It was suggested that before we viewed the Alamo itself we should see the slide show across the street--"The Fall of the Alamo." It was a moving experience and made very poignant the artifacts and pictures in the historic old building.

The afternoon was free, but culmination of the full day was the tremendous barbecue given the Kindred by Lt. Col. "Ned" Harris and Cousin Betty in the patio of their home. Expert Chef Cousin Jim Stewart roasted the venison he had shot for the occasion; Expert Chef Edwin S. Harris, Jr. barbecued huge quantities of beef; Photographer Robert W. Harris snapped scores of pictures. The "fixings" included potato salad, cole slaw and the Mexican sweet rolls called "panes dolces." Spanish musicians in costume sang and played the guitar on the steps. Brilliant paper flowers and Mexican fiesta hats decorated every corner. As the clear twilight deepened and candles gleamed, young cousins Skipper, Christopher and David Harris presented a spirited "Hernando's Hideway," changing the mood from the wistful strains of "Greensleeves" from Marta King's flute.

With about 70 Kindred present, the president conducted the annual business meeting of the corporation. He reviewed accomplishments of the year, including 200 pages of quarterly Newsletter and the agreement by the Genealogical Society of "The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints to microfilm our Historian's records as soon as practical. By voice vote the meeting approved the merger of the Texas corporation of Soule Kindred in America with the Massachusetts corporation of the same name. He thanked the Harris family for the generous barbecue, the Herbert Soule family for much transportation of guests, Pilgrim Hall in Plymouth and the Pennsylvania Society of Mayflower Descendants for the loan of the costumes. Special thanks were given to Mrs. Fred Soules, who "licks the stamps" that get our Newsletter into the mail, and to Ben George Soule, who takes out a large insurance policy payable to Soule Kindred, whenever he flies. (We emphatically do not wish to collect that one.)

The president read letters from President Nixon, Admiral Alan Shepard, ex-Governor Connally, and several members who could not attend. Each member present introduced himself.

The list of officers for the coming year, as nominated by a quorum of the directors, was read: President: Kenneth Tiffin; Vice President: The Rev. Gilbert Doane; Secretary: Mrs. Janet (Soules) Frame; Treasurer: Betty Jean Haner; Directors: Until 1976 - Shirley Soule Smith, Ben George Soule, W. Fred Soules. Until 1975 - Betty Jean Haner, Mrs. Betty Harris, Warren Soule. Until 1974 - Mrs. Hazel (Sowle) Smith, Carl W. Soule, Jr., Kenneth Tiffin. Upon motion, Seconded, the meeting unanimously accepted the slate of officers as read.

It was then voted that the effective date of the merger between Texas and Massachusetts corporations, Soule Kindred in America, is June 30th 1973, and that the officers and directors as elected in the Texas corporation become the officers and directors of the Massachusetts corporation of the same name. The Secretary was directed to cast one ballot for the slate of officers listed above and they were declared duly elected officers of Soule Kindred in America, a Massachusetts corporation.

The president reminded the members of the sales items: the Index to the Ridlon genealogy, Soule House note folders, new plaques bearing a Soule coat-of-arms, and back issues of the Newsletter.

Finally he presented on behalf of the officers and directors a handsome plaque of a Pilgrim scene, mounted on walnut by Colonel Harris, to the retiring Secretary, Shirley Soule Smith, and to our remarkably efficient and faithful treasurer, Betty Jean Haner. A special plaque bearing both the Soule and the Harris arms went to our hostess of the evening and organizer of the reunion, Mrs. Betty Harris, with deep gratitude from all.

It was hard to tell whether the oldest or the youngest member of the Kindred present most enjoyed the occasion: Mrs. Annie (Soules) McCaughan, who at 38 years had rounded up many members of her family to attend and led them all, or Robert Wadsworth Harris, aged six months. One participant unconscious of the excitement, who attracted perhaps the most attention of all, was "Bambi" a tiny fawn given shelter by the Stewart family after "mom" had met with a fatal accident.

It was voted that the 1974 reunion of Soule Kindred in America be held in Indianapolis, at the invitation of Cousin Mary Thomas Crismore, and that the place and date be left to her discretion, the membership to be informed through publication in the Newsletter.

The meeting was then adjourned, to partake of iced watermelon and to hear Colonel Soule's illustrated narrative of "A Thousand Years of Soule History."

THE PRESIDENT'S CORNER:

July 27, 1973

Mr. Kenneth C. Tiffin
125 High Street
Boston, Mass. 02110

Dear Cousins:

Don't ask me how I was elected or why? That's a mystery that no one has yet explained to me. However, since the votes are all in and the meeting is over I will try and find out what I am supposed to do and then try my best to do it. If any of you folks have any ideas of what you would like to see done, please write in. I'm a poor mind reader or guesser. I'm not promising that I will do every thing that each of you suggest but I might just fool you. I'm brand new and not schooled in the tradition of the organization. I've not yet formed habits, S-o-o let me hear from "you all".

Also we have a good newsletter and a grand Editor but each of you will have to do your share of braggin to make it real interesting. Just don't tell us how many spare bed rooms you have because some of us travel and motel rates are going up.

A few thoughts to start the year off:

How about giving a membership to a daughter, son, grandchild or relative for a Birthday or Christmas present?

Every organization I belong to wants more members and we are no exception.

Are you interested in forming a regional chapter so that the Soules in your region can get to-gether? If so, are you willing to help organize?

Do you have any family bibles, records, wills, deeds or a Sampler? If you do not want to give them to Soule Kindred to preserve we would like to microfilm or copy them. Write me, Mr. Howard Thomas or Mrs. Mary Thomas Crismore. (addresses on officer's page.)

In conclusion: We must all join to-gether to record everything collectively that we know and that should be handed down to future generations. We must and we shall pull to-gether in this common cause which is ours by inheritance.

Just a few thoughts from one cousin to all the others,

KENNETH C. TIFFIN, President

A little about our new president:-

Kenneth C. Tiffin was born in Keene, N.H. and is a graduate of Boston University Law School, class of 1921.

A descendant from George Soule through a line from his daughter Mary Soule who married Joseph Davol. Their daughter Hannah married Thomas Mosher and his grandmother was Marinda Mosher. He is also a descendant from John Alden.

He married Celia B. Hopkins a descendant of James Chilton and Francis Cooke. They will be celebrating their 49th anniversary this year. They are both rated amateur genealogists. He is a member of the N.E. Historical Genealogical Society, the N.H. Historical Society and the Strafford Vermont Historical Society. They are both members of the Mayflower Society.

They have two sons and seven grandchildren that they may brag about when with other grandparents. One son lives in Hingham, Mass. and the other lives in Clearwater, Florida.

He is a former Alderman for Newton, Mass. and a former Moderator for the town of Holliston, Mass. where they now make their home. He is a Shriner and 32nd degree Mason.

In their spare time they enjoy gardening with particular interest in roses, azaleas and rhododendrons.

They have a hobby; dog fanciers (Great Danes). They have bred, shown and judged since 1934. Currently he is licensed to judge the entire working group (about 30 breeds) including the group itself and Best in Show. They travel from coast to coast each year attending and judging shows and meeting people from all walks of life with this common interest.

Our President is a former Delegate to the American Kennel Club.

A Past President of the Great Dane Club of America.

Founder and first President of the Great Dane Club of New England.

Former Secretary of the Eastern Dog Club.

Past President and former Treasurer of the Farmingham District Kennel Club.

There are other civic organizations that he has served, such as Boy Scouts, Church Groups, etc. but he hasn't recorded them for his great, great grandchildren.

Their bags are always packed as they lead a busy life. When it is possible they hide away out there in the country.

On page 85 we have a picture of our new president also and his lovely wife. They were enjoying their view of San Antonio from their table-in-the-sky.

They brought their granddaughter also and she is show in other photographs. We, Frank and I, had the privilege of their company on our trip to the Harris's as they came by plane and we were driving and shared transportation with them.

He will serve us as a good president and here I want to say a great big Thank You to our out-going president, George S. Soule, who too has done a great job.

An organization is just as good as the leaders and we SOULE KINDRED are very thankful for all the past officers.

Shirley Soule Smith, our out-going Secretary has also done a marvelous job. She has had a kind little note with each item she sends me. A friend indeed! I am now looking forward to a new friendship with our newly elected Secretary, Janet Soules Frame.

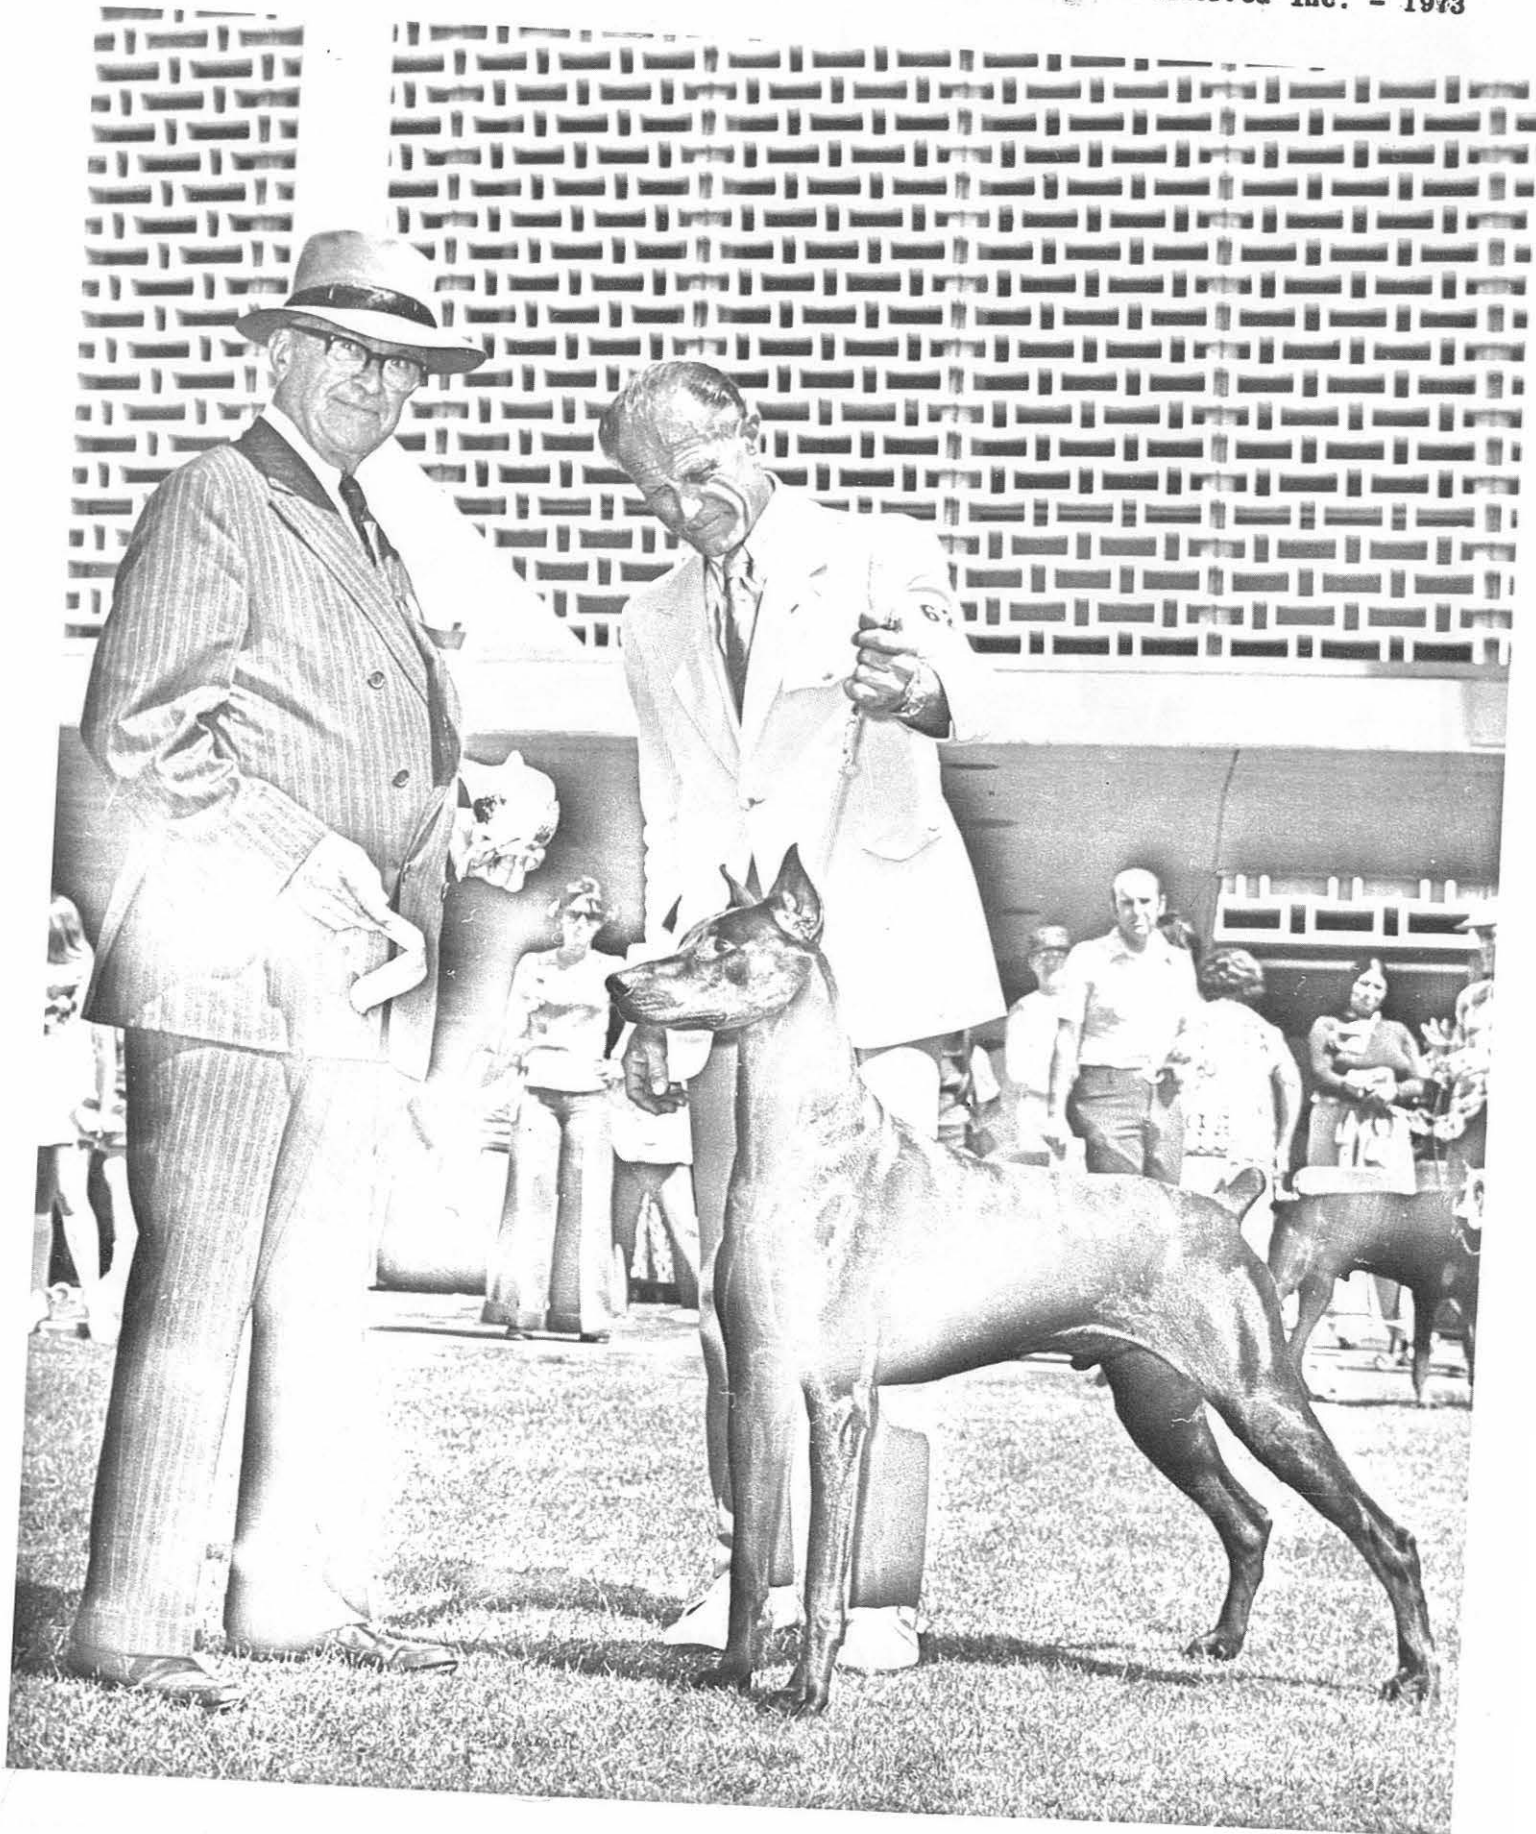

Without the good corps of officers this organization could not exist. Let's all try and accomplish some the items as suggested by our new president.

Col John Soules is a very busy person and has now changed the 1973 date to 1974 on his letter as given in Soule Newsletter, Vol. VII, No. 1, January 1973, pg: 32. If you have any data that has not been presented to him about our first five generations for his Five Generation Project, now is the time to get it to him.

In same issue is a VITAL STATISTICS DATA FORM, page 19, fill out and mail to address as stated.

(Editors note about officers.)

PURITANS who tried to kill Christmas were assigned places in meeting houses on the basis of social status.

The Law That Banned Christmas For 22 Years

By The Rev. WEBB GARRISON
Radical Protestant church

men tried to kill Christmas in the 17th Century by outlawing its celebration on both sides of the Atlantic.

To them the holiday was a "popish (Catholic) frivolity" at best, a work of Satan at worst.

But the law proved highly unpopular with both Catholics and Protestants because most people, regardless of their religion, preferred a day of merrymaking, feasting and gift-giving to one of work.

In Massachusetts, William Bradford, second governor of the Plymouth Bay Colony, was recorded as telling his officers, "We must take the sternest measures against this popish day."

The December 25 of 1620, the first spent in the New World by the Mayflower Pilgrims, was spent felling trees "in order to avoid any frivolity on the day sometimes called Christmas."

STORES TOLD TO MOVE OUT

Arthur's Gourmet Shop In The Old Clayton Hotel Got An Eviction Notice

By VALINDA JONES
Observer Staff Writer

On a paneled back wall behind the sandwich counter in Arthur's — a well-lighted, well-stocked, wine and sandwich shop—hangs an old sign offering a free glass of wine with every sandwich on the store's first anniversary — May 25, 1973.

Thanks to downtown development, there won't be a second anniversary, at least not at Arthur's present 130 W. 5th St. location.

Arthur's and its neighbors, Edison Stewart Photography and Joe Little's Hi-Fi, were told by Southern Real Estate and Insurance to vacate by Jan. 1, 1974. The lot on the corner of W. 5th and Church Street has a new, unidentified owner.

Although Southern Real Estate won't reveal the name of the new owner or his plans, Joseph Little heard rumors months ago that a buyer wanted to tear down the abandoned and dusty Clayton and Pickler hotels and the small shops next to them, build another store, a restaurant and an underground parking deck.

Just a few years ago, the shop was known as Arthur's Gourmet Shoppe, catering to winos who drank in the graveyard across Church Street and to a few connoisseurs of imported wine.

But when the hotels were closed and Arthur's new owners, George Soule and Robert Balsley, chased the winos away, the corner looked like it might regain its former respectability.

"The place is class — a full house every day," said Rudolph Goodwin, who started working in the wine store when the original Arthur — Arthur Pressman — owned it.

"No riffraff comes in now," he added, obviously pleased about the silver-haired sales clerks in their pastel dresses and the mustachioed young executives that form the new lunch-time crowd.

When asked where the business would go, owner George Soule laughed.

"That's a good question, he said. 'We've tried to find a new location, but the places we wanted weren't available.'"

Still, he was optimistic that a place would turn up soon. Like Edison Stewart, who owns the studio next door, Soule wants a downtown store. Stewart said he already had a new location but said he couldn't reveal it for business reasons.

Ironically, Joe Little's Hi-Fi, which has been there 19 years may be the least hurt by the move. Proprietor Little plans to move to a new shopping center off Randolph Road.

"We should have moved out a long time ago," he said. "A large number of our customers are in southeast Charlotte, and they've asked us to come out already."

But Little, who has been in the downtown area in different locations for 27 years, found old ties hard to break — like the rent that stayed the same for all the years he's been on W. 5th St.

The first of next year, though, the wreckers may be tearing down the storefronts, taking with them the old record listening booths, no longer used, in Joe Little's and the somewhat crooked paneling hung by loving hands in Arthur's.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT TO THE SHAREHOLDERS

On behalf of the Board of Directors, I am pleased to submit the Annual Report for the fiscal year ended 31 October, 1972.

During the year deposits increased 44% to $71,640,085, first mortgages 48% to $67,920,437 and total assets 48% to $96,312,439.

Shareholders should note the item, "Deferred Interest Income" appearing on the Balance Sheet. This item represents tax paid income that has been received. However, by reason of regulations established for Ontario incorporated trust companies, we are required to take the same into income in future years rather than in the year of receipt.

Our Burlington Branch opened in late October, and it is gratifying to note at the end of the first full month of business that branch account holders exceeded 1,000, with total deposits in excess of $1,000,000. The branch is unique in Ontario in its use of drive-in facilities and is one of the first such installations in Canada. Drive-in deposits may be made from two traffic lanes and provision has been made for expansion to four lanes. In addition to its drive-in services, the branch features ample on-site vehicle parking and those desiring to conduct their business within the branch are afforded this facility.

Our consumer loan program introduced in July, 1972, is making steady progress and in time will make a significant contribution to our earnings. Of great importance at this point of time is that the availability of this program encourages borrowers, who would have been forced to go elsewhere, to obtain their personal loans from Hamilton Trust.

Since fiscal year-end, our deposit growth has been at record levels. In these circumstances we are fortunate to have a substantial block of forward mortgage commitments. However, many lenders currently appear to have ample mortgage funds so that stiff competition for mortgage loans may be expected over the next few months.

In conclusion, may I convey my sincere appreciation to our Staff, Advisory Board, Directors and the many friends of Hamilton Trust who have helped in achieving the excellent results set forth in the annexed report.

Respectfully submitted,

Hamilton, Ontario

Area Artist To Exhibit Sculpture In Westfield

Sculptings by David F. Soule, a recognized area artist, are to be exhibited at the Patterson Library and Art Gallery in Westfield, N.Y. during May, according to James M. Wheeler, director of the gallery.

Over 30 pieces will be included in the exhibit, with traditional, contemporary and abstract sculptures represented, as well as assorted works in various media.

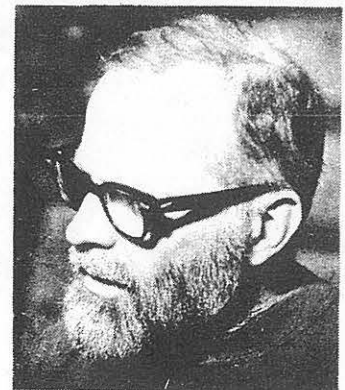

The major portion of the work is comprised of glyptic sculptures executed in marble, limestone and alabaster. The remaining pieces are done in clay, wax, plaster and oils.

In the past, Soule has exhibited with the Chautauqua Art Assn., Jamestown Community College, the James Prendergast Library, and has participated in other shows in Ohio and Pennsylvania. He recently opened the Warren Art League winter program with an exhibit and lecture, followed by a panel discussion on art in the community.

Soule's work is to be displayed at the Patterson Library Gallery from April 30 to June 2 during the hours of 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday. The gallery will also be open Monday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings from 7 to 9 p.m.

Standees Ride School Buses Despite Ban

By Charles A. Krause
Washington Post Staff Writer

Thousands of students in the metropolitan area, and 1.4 million or more nationwide, ride to school each day standing in the aisles of school buses despite a federal safety regulation that prohibits states from allowing this practice.

Department of Transportation officials say it is extremely dangerous for children to stand while a bus is in motion but enforcement of the federal regulation prohibiting standees "is not a primary area for emphasis at the moment."

David Soule, pupil transportation specialist at the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA), explained yesterday that since the Department of Transportation issued standards regulating school bus safety last June, his agency has been swamped with gathering information and attempting to find out exactly what each state's rules for school buses are at present.

Soule said the agency does not yet know what the laws regarding standees are in 17 states and has not updated 1970 figures that showed that 1.4 million children had to stand on school buses each day. Soule estimated that the 1.4 million figure is probably conservative "because there has been so much court-ordered busing in the past few years."

FIGHTS TOOTH DECAY—Mrs. Mae Miller, right, of 105 Boswell Hill Road, Endicott, led a two-year project to send toothbrushes and supplies to Navajo children in Arizona. With her is Mrs. James V. Fiori, regent of Tuscarora Chapter of the DAR which donated money to send dental equipment to the Indians because of Mrs. Miller's efforts.

By JOHANNA PETROCCIA

Mrs. Mae Miller, 74, is not the kind of person who starts something without finishing it.

As a result, 600 Navajo schoolchildren have toothbrushes to go with their toothpaste.

And dental equipment which might have been discarded is now being used at a new Navajo health care facility.

Mrs. Miller of 105 Boswell Hill Road, Endicott, got her first project rolling two years ago when a vacation Bible school at her church, Wesley United Methodist Church in Endicott, wanted to use $10 they had collected to help Indians in this country.

She wrote to friends who are living and working on the Navajo reservation at Ganada, Ariz. She was told the reservation's elementary school had loads of toothpaste, and even a new dentist for its 600 students. But the school's budget could not cover the cost of toothbrushes for the children.

When her friend Mrs. Louise Chambeaugh of Endicott read a newspaper ad about a retiring dentist in Walton who wanted to give away his dental equipment, she enlisted Mrs. Miller's aid.

Mrs. Miller wrote her friends about the equipment and received a positive reply. It would come in handy for a new health care facility for older Indians and retarded children at another reservation at Chinle.

The only obstacle was finding a way to get the equipment out to Arizona.

Mrs. Chambeaugh, corresponding secretary for the Tuscarora Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, took the matter to that organization.

The 185 members voted to take on the endeavor as a special project.

With the DAR's donation of $335, the equipment was shipped to the reservation.

Ironically, the dental technician who will be using the equipment is a Navajo who received her education through a DAR scholarship, Mrs. Miller said.

Dear Cousins:

On the back page of a recent issue of Soule Newsletter you gave an account of Soule College in Dodge City, Kansas and asked the Kansas Cousins if they could help with some information.

Enclosed is information furnished me by Mr. Jim Maag who is Professor of History in Dodge City Community Junior College and also a member of the Kansas Legislature as the letterhead indicates.

Mr. Maag is a friend of our son, Edward Soule, Topeka, Kansas and was a fraternity brother of Edward's at Washburn University, Topeka, Kansas. Our son and his family visited the Maag's recently and upon returning was telling me about the College and it came to mind about your request and I got out the Newsletter. Edward then wrote Mr. Maag who sent the enclosed information. He has given his permission to use the material.

Yours truly,

Signed (Cousin) Howard S. Soule

Editor's note: (Thank you Howard for remembering our Soule Newsletter and then following through with the information.) and (Thank you Mr. Maag for such a fine letter of information.)

Keep up the good work!!

Soule College was the result of efforts by a patent medicine magnate, Asa T. Soule from Rochester, N.Y., to bring higher education to the frontier plains of western Kansas. Soule came to southwest Kansas in 1883 with many ambitious projects in mind, some of which he guided to fruition during his seven years on the high plains.

His most challenging project was to build an irrigation canal from the Arkansas River in Gray County to Spearville which was nearly 100 miles away. The project was organized under the name of the Eureka Irrigation Canal Company and construction started in 1883. Using nothing more than horse-drawn equipment and human muscle the canal was completed to Spearville by the summer of 1888. Unfortunately the canal's usefulness was short-lived because similar projects further west on the river plus several years of drought dropped the river's water level so low that no water would flow into the canal. However, Soule did not suffer financially from the canal's failure as he sold the company to a group of unsuspecting Englishmen shortly before his death in 1890 for $1, 100, 000.

Soule was also instrumental in organizing the town of Ingalls in Gray County where he envisioned a prairie metropolis since it was located where the canal began and was also being promoted as the county seat of Gray County. Soule's attempts to get the county seat moved to Ingalls have a somewhat comic-opera appeal as they involved building a special railroad to Montezuma (the other town in the county whose votes were needed in the upcoming county seat election) and a Sunday afternoon shoot-out in Cimarron (an attempt to physically transfer the county records from Cimarron to Ingalls).

In 1886 Soule donated $50,000 and a tract of land to the Presbyterian church to establish a college in Dodge City. The college which opened its doors in 1888 was named in honor of the chief benefactor and even after the control of the college shifted from the Presbyterian to the Methodist church in 1893 the name Soule College was retained. Unable to solve the financial problems which constantly beset the college the Methodist church in 1912 sold it to the Sisters of St. Joseph in Wichita. The Sisters used the facilities as a girls' school (St. Mary of the Plains) until May of 1942 when a tornado destroyed the two main buildings on the campus. Ten years later the Sisters opened a high school and a 4-year co-educational college under the same name at a site about one mile east of the old campus.

Today all that remains of the determined efforts of Mr. Soule are a few trees and the foundation of the main college building at the campus site. Traces of his canal can still be viewed to the west of Dodge City while one of the main streets in Dodge City bears the name "Soule Avenue".

Miss Berry Bride of Mr. Soule

At an eight o'clock candlelight ceremony at the Old South Methodist Church in Reading on June 22, Patricia Berry became the bride of Steven Soule, son of Mrs. Roberta Soule and the late Robert Soule of Irving St., Reading. Rev. Paul Samuelson officiated.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Berry was given in marriage by her father. She wore a long-sleeved Victorian gown of chantilly lace with a tiered skirt ending in a cathedral train. A matching Juliet cap appliqued with seed pearls held her three tiered silk illusion veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis.

Wearing a pink chiffon gown with matching picture hat and carrying an old-fashioned bouquet of pink roses and baby's breath was Robin Munsen, maid of honor. Similarly dressed in rainbow colors of turquoise and lavender and carrying matching bouquets, were bridesmaids Joyce Boutin and Cindy Lynch.

Benjamin Houson, nephew of the bride, dressed identically to the groom in a white Victorian tuxedo, served as ring bearer. The groom chose his brother George Soule as best man. Ushers were Bruce Webster and Brad Lamb.

The mother of the bride wore a rose chiffon gown and carried a mother's bouquet of pink roses and carnations. The mother of the groom wore a green and blue chiffon gown with yellow cymbidium orchids.

A reception followed at the Lord Wakefield. Guest book hostesses, Jeri Heinstrom, Kathy Robinson and Cindy Burbine, registered guests from Andover, Beverly, Wellesley, Lexington, New Hampshire, Maine, New York and New Jersey.

Following a short local honeymoon, the couple left for Charleston, S.C. where Mr. Soule is stationed in the U. S. Navy. After a trip to Puerto Rico, they will make their home in Charleston.

GEORGE SOLE, 65, ARCHITECT, DEAD

Designer of Churches and
Kennedy Airport Chapel

George J. Sole, an architect who was perhaps best known for his ecclesiastical buildings, died Friday of a heart ailment at the Booth Memorial Hospital in Flushing, Queens. He was 65 years old and lived at 347 East 52d Street.

Mr. Sole redesigned the Holy Family Roman Catholic Church at 315 East 47th Street, adding the Pope John XXIII multi-lingual library and a three-story rectory. The remodeled edifice was dedicated as the United Nations parish church in 1965.

He also designed the Roman Catholic Chapel of Our Lady of the Skies at Kennedy International Airport, which was dedicated in 1965.

Mr. Sole had been architect for more than 40 churches as well as several synagogues and a number of convents, rectories and parochial schools. He had also designed public elementary schools here, a police station-house for the 25th precinct in Harlem, apartment houses and residences.

He had been architect for condominiums here and abroad and most recently was architect for the Byram complex of Port Chester, N. Y.

He was a member of the New York Chapter of the American Institute of Architects.

Mr. Sole, who was born in Naples, Italy, was brought to the United States as an infant. He studied at New York University, Columbia University and the Beaux Arts Institute.

Surviving are his widow, Antoinette; a brother, Peter, and two sisters, Mrs. Leo Perry and Mrs. Albert Schisano.

A funeral mass will be held Tuesday at 11 A.M. at Holy Family Church.

Harry Marshall Soule

(additional to newspaper clipping quoted in April
1973 Soule Kindred Newsletter - Vol. VII, no. 1, p. 61)

Harry Marshall Soule, Jr., of Kennebunk, Maine, died suddenly on April 24th, 1972, while at his work at Sweetser-Children's Home in Saco, Maine, where he and his wife were house-parents for years and friends to all.

Marshall, as he was generally called, was born on August 21, 1912. His father, Harry Marshall Soule, was born in Strong, Maine, a child of Dennis Soule and grandson of Benjamin. Most of his life he lived in the Rangeley lake area and Marshall first went to school in a log schoolhouse on Kennebago Lake. He washed railroad cars in the summer, thereby earning his first Social Security money.

Kennebago was a summer resort and the home at Kennebago Falls was inaccessible in winter so the family moved into Rangeley for winters. Marshall attended Gould Academy. He became a licensed electrician, holding a Master's license, and was employed in the Saco-Lowell plant in Biddeford (Maine). He was superintendent of the power station at Kennebago Falls for 14 years after his father retired.

He married in 1944 Mrs. Evelyn (Lilley) Butterfield, who was born on December 3, 1903 and whose mother was Jessie (Soule) Lilley, a daughter of Frank Soule. (She married, first, Hollis Butterfield, of Danforth, Maine and had 3 children.

The Marshall Soules became associated with Sweetser-Children's Home in 1965.

Marshall's twin sister, Mrs. Mary (Soule) McConnell, operates the Chat and Chew restaurant in Kennebunkport, Maine, and lives in Kennebunk Beach. Mrs. Marshall Soule lives now on Old Saco Road, Arundel, Maine.

Extending our sympathy to Sybil (Smith) Cook and family and her sister Shirley S. Smith

Commander Robert A. Cook, of Annapolis, Maryland, husband of Sybil (Smith) Cook⁹, died on July 5th. He was born in Mississippi, was a graduate of Marion Military Institute in Alabama and of the U.S. Naval Academy in the Class of 1923.

After medical retirement in 1931, he became the headmaster of the Navy Preparatory School in Annapolis. When recalled to active duty in 1941 he was an instructor in the department of English, History and Government at the Naval Academy until 1943 and sub-chief of the U.S. Naval Mission to Colombia until 1946. He retired again in 1946; was professor of mathematics at Marion Military Institute until 1951 when he became an instructor in mathematics in the Anne Arundel County, Maryland public schools until 1968; then, until 1971, professor of mathematics at Wroxeter-on-Severn School.

A memorial service was held in the St. Andrew's Chapel at the U.S. Naval Academy.

Sybil (Smith) Cook is a sister of Shirley Soule Smith⁹. They are daughters of Florence (Soule) Smith⁸. A biography of their distinguished grandfather, Leander Soule⁷, (No. 27364) appeared in Vol. III, No. 1, January 1969 of the Newsletter.

The children are Mrs. John A. Schuyler (Constance Cook) and Mrs. William W. Hatch (Shirley V. Cook), both of Annapolis. There are three granddaughters in each family, all minors: Leigh, Betsy and Jennifer Schuyler and Sybil, Laura and Margaret Anne Hatch.

Shirley Soule Smith send bits of information from letter she receives:

Col. John Soule wrote this about the reunion and it is so nicely worded, it reads: "To me, it (the reunion in San Antonio) symbolized the deep and warm fellowship the organization has brought into many lives. Somehow, it touched me deeply to see long-time co-workers again and have so many abstract names suddenly become real 'flesh and blood Kinfolk' with fascinating personalities to be remembered."

During our brunch, in "The Tower" while revolving in the 620 foot high restaurant, Col. John Soule made this remark, "Blessed are those who go round and round in circles, for they shall be known as wheels."

George Standish Soule, our past president, is still working on many Soule Projects, including the tour to Europe next year. See page 47, Newsletter, Vol. VII, No. 2, April 1973, for the announcement. He seems to have boundless energy to share with Soule Kindred and has been a wonderful person to work with, we will miss him but he is by far not a hidden spoke in our Soule Wheel that keeps turning around.

Clayton Soule gets around too and just happened to see a friend from the City Newspaper of Oklahoma while touring the River Walk.

Betty-Jean Haner, our Treasurer made a good report, all bills paid and a bit left over for next year's start.

GRAVESTONES OF EARLY NEW ENGLAND AND THE MEN WHO MADE THEM

by Harriett Forbes, published by Houghton, Mifflin,
Boston, 1927

SOULES (page 85)

Another group of men who did much work in Worcester and vicinity belonged to a Plympton family of good Mayflower stock, which possibly might account for the large amount of journeying done by them. I call them local workers, because there does not seem to have been a great demand for their wares except in the places where they were residing at the time. Just how many members of the Soule family made gravestones, it is hard to say. One who did was Ebenezer, son of Benjanim and Sarah Soule, born in Plympton, February 16, 1710/11. He married in 1733 Susannah Coomer and died in Hinsdale, New Hampshire on September 17, 1792.

His son Beza, born in 1750, and perhaps Ebenezer, born in 1737, made gravestones. Coomer, too, another son, was probably of the same craft, and the work was carried on by younger members of the family well into the 19th century. They used a variety of materials; while in Worcester, they seemed to be satisfied by that iron-rusty, soapstone schist which the coal mine had to offer; in Bennington they used white marble.

They had a variety of patterns, all, however, having much the same feeling and effect. The stone of Hezekiah Stone, Oxford, 1771, is very typical of their work. The embroidered hair, the line of the nose, forming straight eyebrows above the oval eyes, the heavy shadow under the chin, the straight, small mouth, and especially the borders with the funny three-story flowers and profile thistle at their tops, were all Soule characteristics. Equally so is the Medusa hair, as on the stone of poor little Elizabeth Caldwell, Barre, 1777, who 'died to the Grief of a Fond Mother and the Blasted Expectation of an Indigent Father,' and also the scroll border and the star. Plympton and Plymouth are full of stones of Medusa hair, and Deerfield vicinity where Coomer and Beza lived for awhile, have many two- or three-story flowers and many similar heads of embroidered hair.

Coomer and his wife are both buried in Barre under typical Soule stones. She died before he did, and her stone, perhaps made by him, is much better than his, although both are of a regular Soule design.

The father, Ebenezer, moved to Hinsdale, New Hampshire, where he found a ready market for his work. Some of the gravestones in the early burying ground there and in that of the nearby town of Brattleborough, Vermont are of the same pattern, even to the smallest detail that he used in Oxford, Holden, Rutland and other Worcester County towns. The slate of his New Hampshire stones is from a different quarry from those he carved in Massachusetts and sometimes he replaces it with marble.

We find also that he supplied some of the people of Bennington with marble stones. We can easily discern his hand on that of John Pratt, Bennington, 1768, although the three-story buds have blossomed and the features of the face are more carefully elaborated.

QUERIES and ANSWERS:

From the desk of Col. John Soule

Raymond Shepley, 212 Dyer Road, West Palm Beach, Florida writes: "I descend from Patience Soule who married John Haskell who you listed as third child, and probably born about 1630. With my listing of her children I believe it to be somewhat later. I would like your comments on this, etc."

Col. John replies: "Your letter raised a very interesting question: Is our placement of the birth of Patience Soule at or about 1630 valid.....We have often regretted that we attempted to make any sort of arrangement of the children of George¹ Soule and Mary (Bucket/Becket) Soule.....Similar challenge can be made for almost any of the nine children. If you would like to make a "new official determination", we'll be delighted to send a copy of all we know about each of the nine."

The listing as of now is 1. Zachariah² Soule born about 1624-7. 2. Elizabeth Soule married Francis Walker, Sr., she was born about 1627-28. 3. Patience Soule married John Haskell, Sr., she was born about 1630 (?). 4. John Soule married (1) Rebecca Simmons (2) Esther (Nash) Sampson, he was born about 1632 (?). 5. Susanna Soule married Francis West, Sr., she was born about 1634 (?). 6. Mary Soule married John Peterson, she was born about 1636 (?). 7. Nathaniel Soule married Rose/Rosamond (?), he was born about 1637 (?). 8. George Soule, Jr. married Deborah (?), he was born about 1639-40. 9. Benjamin Soule never married (probably) and was born about 1641 (?).

Col. John Soule needs help on the HASKELL and WEST first five generations and will be happy to get any documented data about them. Help will be greatly appreciated. How many deeds, wills, marriages, etc. can be shown for any the above nine children which he does not have, in his files?

From the desk of Mary Crismore

Quote: "In the May issue of the Mayflower Quarterly I saw a book review of a new book "The Thomas Clark Family" by Arthur H. & Katherine W. Radasch. I ordered a copy and found that David Clark, born 1732, was indeed the father of David Clark, born about 1757. This completes my line back to Thomas Clark, Plymouth 1623, and to George Soule of the Mayflower." He was happy to get an answer to his query in the April Newsletter and hopes this will help others.

Letter from Mrs. A. M. Johnston, Box 345, Ft. Meade, S.D. 57741:

See April 1973 issue Newsletter, Vol. VII, No. 2, page 72: and she sends:-

"Correction for the line in above stated issue, etc." "It is never pleasant to feel that one needs to destroy a satisfying idea to another, but in order that no one else spends time as I did to prove that Lydia Howland, who married George⁴ (the blacksmith) was a descendant of John Howland, Pilgrim may I say that it wasn't so, according to Dr. Gilbert Doane, eminent genealogist and Soule member, who was kind enough to look into the matter specifically for us after meeting my sister at the '69 reunion."

"Dr. Doane's letter is long but I will quote this: 'In Franklyn Howland's A Brief Gen. History of Arthur, Henry and John Howland and their Descendants, on pages as listed. "Lydia, daughter of Benjamin³ (Zoeth², Henry¹) and Judith (Sampson) Howland, b. 8 Dec. 1701 married in 1719 George⁴ Soule, son of William³ and Hannah Sowle (Soule) of Dartmouth, Mass. (p. 79-80) "

"Zoeth² Howland was the son of Henry¹ (brother of John Howland, the Pilgrim)

he married about 1656, Abigail _____. etc." Henry¹ Howland, the Pilgrim, was the son of Henry Howland of Fen Stantion Co., Huntingdon, England....P. 70-72 and 61-69."

Signed: Mrs. A.M. Johnston. (Her lineage #5235-173 is George, the Pilgrim, George², William³, George⁴, Benjamin⁵, Isaac⁶, Isaac⁷, George⁸, Elizabeth Cynthia Soule⁹, Edith Todd¹⁰, Mirian Jones Johnston¹¹.)

She wrote a letter to me (the editor) quote: "What a gold mine that April issue is. All kinds of goodies. This issue also provides two possible sources on a Soule line I am trying to work out for a local family and possibly another family."

Editors note: (It is great to hear we have helped someone to prove a line. Maybe each of you cousins might find something for another Soule kindred.)

Co., Utah, married 15 May 1854 at Lafayette, Tipp. Co., Indiana to Amelia Permelia Kullmer who died 31 Mar. 1906 at Salt Lake, Utah.

Mrs. Alger G. Johnson's second querie as sent to Mrs. Briggs (membership chairman):
See SOULE NEWSLETTER, Vol. VII, No. 2, April 1973, page 71

Your letter relative to membership in Soule Kindred arrived this morning. We are members, having joined about two months ago. But your letter prompted a response as it referred to historical documentation, and asked for additional information relative to the Soule clan. Perhaps we can make it a two way street.

We originally found out about Soule Kindred through Mrs. Crismore of Indianapolis. We first established contact when we heard that a book was being published on the geneologies of the Soule Kindred. It was then that we followed her suggestion of joining the association, with the thought in mind that a squib in the newsletter would bring some additional information about a progenitor, Moses Soule. While our letter appeared in the last issue, we have received no response - darn it - and are no better off than we were when we started.

My wife, Roberta, is a Soule decendent. We believe that the Soules could be traced back to George Soule. Unfortunately, we have hit a dead end. Perhaps your sources of Soule Kindred as mentioned in your letter can give us some information. In answer to your request for geneological information, let me provide the following, and perhaps your own documentation will enable us to delve deeper into the past.

 Elizabeth Marble Brock, born December 22, 1845, West Barnet, Vermont
 Died, March 5, 1913, Lowell, Massachusetts
 Married December 17, 1868

From here on, we go by guess and by gorry. Our information is based upon census records only, and we seem unable to come up with other concrete information. Perhaps your records can fill in the missing gaps.

William Oren Soule was the son of Reubin Soule of Troy, Maine. the 1850 Census of Troy show Reubin Soule - 33 years; Mary A. Beard Soule - 33 years. Two sons, William Orin - 5 years; Elbridge A. - 3 years. There appears to be a brother living with them - Elbridge G. Soule.- 35 years.. On that basis, Reubin must have been born in 1817. The 1860 census shows Orin and Asbrey Soule, so apparently both boys were known by their middle names. At that time the were recorded as ages 17 and 15 years respectively.

The 1840 census of Troy shows Moses Soule, apparently the father of Reubin, but names are lacking. The entry shows two male children between 20-30 years of age (Reubin and Elbridge A. ?); one male 40-50; 1 female 20-30; one female 40-50.

In 1830 the census of Troy showed Moses Soule, but again no identification as to names of his family: two male children 10-15 years (Reubin and Elbridge A?); one male 20-30; one male 40-50; one female 30-40.

So there you have it. Please incorporate our information into your files, perhaps it will be helpful to someone. By the same token, does your files shed any light, either through William Oren or Elbridge Asbrey Soule, and their father, Moses. My husband is a member of the Mayflower Society; hopefully I can join him.

We will appreciate any correspondence, especially if related to our search. Should you need any additional information, or if we may be of any help, please let us know.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Alger G. Johnson

The article on page 115, is about the work of Benjamin Soule and his sons Coomer and Beza. Benjamin worked and is buried at Hinsdale, New Hampshire. This story contains a section on the carvings of the Soules, starting in Plimpton.

I am glad to claim membership in the Soule family, being descended from George Soule, Mayflower Pilgrim. It goes like this:

Jedediah and Tabitha (Bishop) Soule moved to Maine and lived in North Yarmouth. Their youngest child Mercy married Samuel Bartol, who died within a year or so, after which Mercy married Eliphas Phillips of Gray, Maine. The Phillips' are buried in the graveyard there, including Hannah Bartol, child of Mercy's marriage to Samuel Bartol. Mercy is my great-great-great-grandmother.

Eliphas Phillips was born about 1761, was married to Mercy Bartol about 1789, and died in 1833.

He added: I would like to know Eliphas' parents! Anyone have any clues?

Can anyone help on this Soule family and were they related to our George Soule?

She has other lineages of that time era, namely, Mercer; Hinckley (many spellings): a Rev. John Smith; John, Elisha and Ebenezer Dunham; and Fenton. Needs help on them also. Somewhere they tie into the SOULE relationship.

Pilgrim House by the Sea

By Robert M. Bartlett

In this delightful new book, Robert M. Bartlett has again achieved a notable success. The author of the historical work, The Pilgrim Way, provides further insight in this felicitous story into the enduring romance of the Pilgrim country. Written in a fictional-autobiographical fashion, it chronicles the events of seven months in the lives of a Midwestern family "come East" to investigate and refurbish an antique home that had recently been left to them by a relative. The family name is Warren.

The main focus, and what is so worthwhile about reading this heart-warming record of the Warrens' struggle to restore their Pilgrim home to its original hardiness and serviceability, is that the author has managed to capture the flavor of New England life, as well as the spirit of her Mayflower heritage. In language suited to his descriptions of the tranquil landscape, and in dialogue spiced with local quaintness, Bartlett infuses the tale with his own deep affection for her people and her wild, but beautiful coast, sighted by our forefathers over three hundred and fifty years ago.

The Warrens plan an ambitious restoration of the venerable house and they spend seven fruitful months toiling at a variety of patch-up jobs, scouting the area and, in general, absorbing the unique atmosphere of old New England. Set in the Depression era of the mid-1930's, the Warrens have a bare minimum of funds to lavish on their beloved edifice, and so contrive to combine their individual talents with a willingness to work, and manage to fulfill their ambitions while still having fun! One cannot help but feel a warm admiration for this lively, likeable clan. Seen through the eyes of its philosophical patriarch, Rab Warren, Professor of English Literature, are Dixie, his enterprising wife, and their three engaging children, Bill, Bets and Captain. Each contributes to the face-lifting of the house and in his own unique way to the overriding appeal of the story. The reader will be fascinated with these people and their entertaining activities in the sleepy seaside village: shingling, wallpapering, plastering, antiquing, gardening, clamming and working with the colorfully portrayed village inhabitants who support them in their efforts.

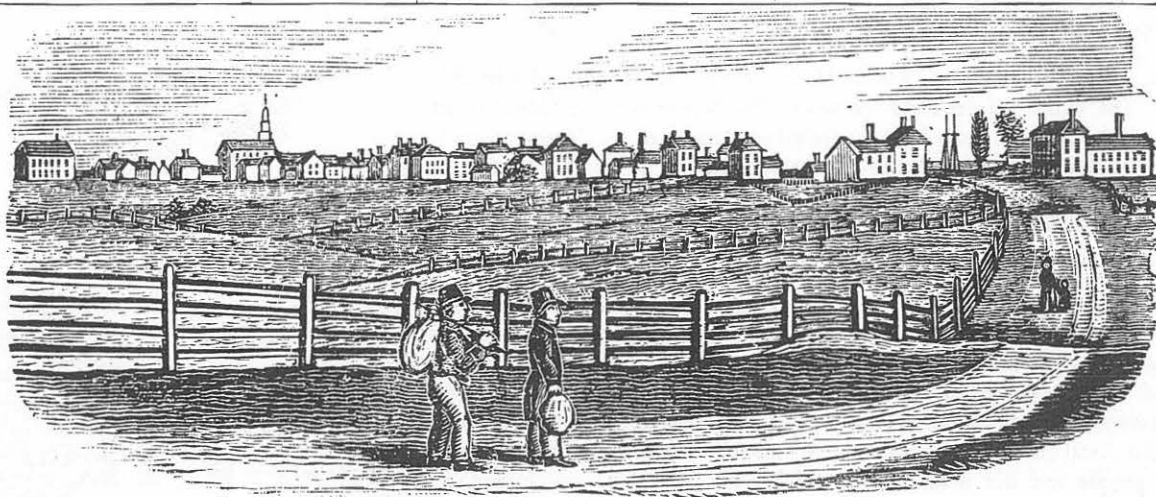

In the midst of all this, however, Rab Warren is struggling to put the finishing touches on his Doctoral thesis, long delayed because of familial responsibilities. The thesis deals with Henry David Thoreau, whose philosophy of leisure and enjoyment of life sets the mood of the text and is adopted by the exuberant individuals who together weave the plot of the narrative.

Pilgrim House by the Sea is also a book for ecologists and nature lovers, where the peace of the countryside extends its benediction. It is a light-hearted story to be read for relaxation and pleasure, and may start you dreaming about a new rose garden, buying an old house, learning to sail, becoming a bird-watcher, or just championing the thesis of Thoreau, that man need not live by the sweat of his brow.

Handsomely bound, with an attractive three-color jacket, Pilgrim House by the Sea is indeed an artistic volume. An appropriate gift for any occasion, it will appeal to a variety of readers. The book has been beautifully illustrated by the gifted and well-known New England artist, Jan Norton. The illustrations, restoration and ecological references combine to make the book a delight to read and a treasure to own.
